ONE LEG CUT OFF, GIRL MAY LOSE OTHER

Brave Miss Demorest, Run Over by Car, Shows Marvellous Grit.

Remarkable is the grit shown by Miss Esther Demorest, who lies in the Hudson Street Hospital, a cripple for life, one leg gone and the other may have to be amputated. The plucky girl endures her agony with smiles, and encourages ther friends and nurses.

With Mr. Welimen, a composer, and others she had been out to dine at the invitation of Alfred J. Patterson, a young lawyer, of No. tention paid by him to a married wo-1258 Broadway.

struck by the car, thrown to the ground and terribly bruised and mangled. Mr. Patterson was seriously bruised in an attempt to save her.

At the hospital she was as brave as in the station, and begged the physicians to let her undergo the operation without an anaesthetic. When she came out of the influence of ether, which the surgeons insisted upon administering, her first question was for her father. "Poor father!" she said; "I hope he will not feel very bad about my being thurt. I can take another instrument and do well."

Her mind was still on her music. It is a passion with her, and she has made such progress that her father and friends have predicted great things for her. The pipe organ was her fatvorite instrument, but she was profi-saigned to-day.

At the hospital it is said that Miss Demorest is getting on as favorably as can be expected, her great nerve being the principal factor in her rapid and strong rally after the operation, and hope is entertained that her remaining leg may be saved, though it is seriously lacerated, and the say with an Lawyer Patterson asked that the man be held, and Magistrate Crane said he would release him and hold the street railroad company responsible for bis appearance when wanted.

The picture of an automobile running flown a boy, which appeared in a car-toon in Wednesday's Evening World, was not in any way intended to repre-sent the machines used by the New York Auto Transfer Company, of No. Fork Auto Transfer Company, of No. 27 East Twenty-second street. The fact that the pictured automobile happened to be of the same type as those operated by this company, was a mere coincidence. There was no intention of conveying the idea that a machine of this company had met with such an accident.
